GENERAL INFORMATION

Every year, Grow Pittsburgh starts vegetable, herb, and flower seedlings in our greenhouse space at the Frick Art and Historical Center. We provide seedlings to community gardens and donate seedlings through the Food Bank's Produce to People distributions. We also sell seedlings to the public.

Here is some general information about the seedlings and where you can find them:

- We grow our seedlings from seed or organic plugs, and they come in 3.5," biodegradable pots that can be planted along with the seedling, or removed before planting and composted.
- Our seedlings are available at the Frick Art and Historical Center, from Tues. April 29 through Sun. June 15. The Frick is open from 10-5:00 daily, Tues-Sun. We restock varieties as possible, but some seedlings will sell out, so shop early for the best selection! The seedling sale is self-serve; select your seedlings in the greenhouse and pay at the Museum Shop – the brick building beside the greenhouse. Some bags and trays are available in the greenhouse but feel free to bring trays, boxes, or bags of your own for transporting your seedlings.
- We sell seedlings at May Market at the Phipps Conservatory in Oakland. This annual sale is the weekend of Mother's Day (May 9-10) and runs Friday (9:30am-7:00pm) and Saturday (9:30-5:00pm).
- Our seedlings are also available at these local retailers:
  - Today's Market in Oakmont
  - Nature's Way Market in Greensburg
  - The Urban Gardener in the Northside
- Most flowers, herbs, and vegetables will be available beginning the first week in May. Some cool-season crops (italicized on the list above) will only be available for the first few weeks of the sale.
